ASSEMBLY PASSES POOL SELLING BILL

Extra Help Amendment for Secretary of State's Office Killed.

Congressional Apportionment Providing for 11 Districts, Passes the Assembly. -

DOINGS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Madison, Wis., May 8.-Despite a strong speech by Assembly Orton in ing the which he denounced the bill as legalizing gambling, the assembly this morning refused to reconsider the of 41 to 40. This bill now goes to the senate.

The assembly passed the bill licensing stationary engineers and also the bill providing for a state appropriation for free high schools.

The committee on claim's amendment to the bill for a uniform syste of state book-keeping, which empowered the secretary of state to employ additional help to carry out the provisions of the bill, was rejected and the measure ordered engrossed in the original form, compelling the secretary of state to keep his books under the system with the present help. The debate over the bill was very bitter. Assemblymen Hall and Sturdevant claimed the secretary of state has now plenty of help with which to keep the books under the present system.

The senate laid the apportionment bill, passed in the assembly night, over until this evening. Senator Kreutzer has some objections to the form of the Tenth district but the general belief appears to be that the bill will be passed in the form in which it is now drawn.

The senate this morning passed a resolution for final adjournment at bers when voting upon it. moon, Wednesday, May 15. cuts off all calendar work at noon next Saturday. The assembly laid the resolution over until tomorrow The Burns caucus convention bill was passed under a suspension of the rules in the senate.

Madison, May 8-It has been found that the Hagemeister substitute for the primary bill, now before the governor, would be practically a dead letter if enacted. The supposition was that the adoption of the law would be optional with the counties in choosing their officers, but no reference to local option can be found in it, and the law, if adopted, would have to be accepted by a majority vote of the state, a provision never realized by the majority of the mem-

BRONCHITIS SERIOUS ILLNESS OF PATRICK

We Know is Hard to Control.

Our Vinol is Making a Wonderful Record in Curing This Dangerous Disease.

CALL AND LET US TELL YOU ABOUT IT.

Here is a letter that has just come to our attention. It will interest people suffering from bronchial troubles. It is from Mr. Geo. W. Brown, of So. Hanover, N. H., and reads as follows:

"I have suffered with bronchial troubles for over a year; tried two doctors and have taken three or four kinds of and have taken three or four kinds of medicine, none of which did me any good. At times I was so hoarse I could not speak. Then I heard of Vinol. After taking three bottles of it my voice has perfectly returned to me. I can see that in a short time I will be all right. When I began to take it I was very weak, but it has built me in and given me a good apprebuilt me up and given me a good appe-

This is what Vinol always does. This is the way Vinol accomplishes its mission of doing good.

Vinol, as we wish every one to know, owes its power of accomplishing the cures that it effects to the fact that it contains the most wonderful medicinal elements known to science for the cure of all wasting diseases, as well as being in itself a marvelous tonic. These medicinal properties exist and have here-tofore been found only in cod-liver oil. Vinol contains these elements. For by Vinol contains these elements. For by a scientific-process the necessary curative properties of the cod-liver oil have been separated from the fat and grease which formerly made cod-liver oil preparations so objectionable.

As long as Vinol does not contain any of the vile-smelling oil, and is prepared by combining the sought-after properties with a delicate table wine, it is a most delicious and palatable preparation.

We know of what we speak when we recommend Vinol, and because we do know that Vinoi does all we claim for it, we unhesitatingly endorse it, and guarantee at any time to refund the money paid for the remedy if you are not satisfied it will do all we claim for it.

England has always maintained that America was good enough to furnish the cereals, and food supply, but the great work shop of the world belonged on the other side of the water.

Conditions are changing so rapidly, however, that alarm has taken the place of unrest, and not only England, but all foreign countries, that come in competition, find it necessary to do something to shut off American competition.

The balance of trade that has piled up to our credit during the past three years, according to the secretary's report, is $1,700,000,000.

This mens not only the product of the soil, which has been very abundant, and much in excess of home demand, but it means the product of American factories, in almost every line of industry as well.

SWINGING AROUND

For more than a month and a half this year, beginning about April 29, the capitol of the United States will be on wheels. Not that the venerable gray domed structure on Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, will be moved about, but much of what constitutes our government when congress is not in session, the president and his cabinet, will be engaged in a grand "swing around the circle." Other presidents before our present chief of state have toured the country, but not one of them ever made so extensive and farreaching a tour as the forthcoming trip of President McKinley and his official

It must not be thought that while the president is away from Washington the ship of state will drift without a hand at the helm. Far from it. One car of the six composing the presidential train will be the government office. Therein will be all the equipment necessary to the transaction of business, including a corps of clerks, stenographers and typewriters. There will be two of the White House telegraph operators prepared to keep the president fully informed of the march of events and to tap a line if it becomes imperatively necessary for him to send a message between stations.

As all or nearly all of the cabinet will, with their wives, accompany the president and Mrs. McKinley it is expected that the regular Tuesday and Friday cabinet meetings will be held on board the train. The subordinate officials in Washington will all have copies of the schedule of the presidential train. They will thus be able to send at any time, day or night, information to their chiefs, and never at any time will the heads of the government be out of touch with the coun-

Thus, although the trip is in the nature of a vacation and a rest for the president and the cabinet, the public interests will not suffer by their absence from Washington.

Probably the busiest man in Washington these days is George B. Cortelyou, secretary to the president. To Mr. Cortelyou have been intrusted all the arrangements of the president's tour, and upon him will devolve the responsibility for its success. Mr. Cortelyon is a young New Yorker and succeeded the late Mr. Porter as secretary to President McKinley. En route the entire trip will be under his direction, and the train crew will be entirely under his orders.

The itinerary of the tour will be as tollows: On April 29 the president's special train will leave Washington, going first to New Orleans. From there the route leads overland to southern California, stops being made at Galveston, Houston and San Antonio and other important cities and towns. The run through New Mexico and Aricona will be quickly made, and after stops at one or two points Callfornia will be reached. The orange groves at Redlands will be inspected. Pasadena visited, and the Grand Army encampment at Monterey will greet the president, himself a Grand Army man. At San Jose will occur the floral fete doubtless one of the most enjoyable features of the trip. In honor of the president's coming Santa Clara county has planted 5,000 acres of sweet peas with which to decorate San Jose.

Leaving hospitable southern California, San Francisco will be reached about May 14. Here a stay of more than a week will be made, the chief feature of the Golden Gate's celebration being the launching of the battleship Ohio on May 19. From California the route leads northward to Oregon and Washington, down through Utah and Colorado and then eastward and northward to Duluth. From the lake city the presidential party will sail to Buffalo to pay their respects to the Pan-American exposition. From Buffalo down to Washington will complete the circle.

This is substantially the plan as arranged, though minor changes may be made in it. So many invitations have been extended to the president that he will be unable to accept even a small portion of them. Requests that the party stop have been received from almost every city, town, village and hamlet in the territory to be visited. To grant them all would require an absence from Washington of some

The presidential train will consist of six cars, one of which will be reserved for the president and his wife and Secretary Cortelyon. Two magnificent cars will be for members of the cabinet and their wives and another for the newspaper correspondents and the clerical force already mentioned. A dining car and a baggage car will complete the train. The baggage car will contain a barber shop, bathroom and library.

Every precaution will be taken by he various roads over which the train will travel to insure the safety of the party. The train crew will consist of the pick of the men of the roads, and engines and roadbeds will be put in the best possible condition. For a large part of the journey the presidential train will be piloted-that is, it will be preceded by a special engine start-ing a few minutes ahead and keeping about a mile in front. By these and other means the possibility of accident will be reduced to a minimum.

It is expected that wherever the train stops Mr. McKinley will be called on to speak, and he will probably deliver between 300 and 400 addresses en route. During this trip it is estimated that more than 2.000,000 citizens will assemble to see the presidential party.

The president's trip is undertaken in response to hundreds of invitations from western legislative bodies, commercial bodies, legal bodies and all other sorts of bodies. During his administration Mr. McKinley has visited every section of the country save the very far west, and nathrally the "slope" feels somewhat slighted. He has visit-ed New England and Chicago several times each, has been south and to the middle west twice, to New York and Philadelphia quite often and to Ohio about a dozen times. Within the past four years the president has probably traveled a distance equal to the circuit of the globe. Now that the inaugura-tion is past and congress has adjourned he thinks it a good time to respond to the numerous invitations extended to him from the land of the setting sun.

The Sense of Smell.

Olfactory sensations are probably re ceived from material emanations from the odoriferous substance, the emanations being absorbed by the fluid in which the microscopic ends of the olfactory nerves are constantly bathed. This moisture is so essential to the proper action of the nerves that its abA WORLD'S FAIR MAYOR.

St. Louis' New Executive Will Preside During Purchase Centennial.

St. Louis has just gone through a municipal campaign that has been one of the warmest in the history of the Mound City. Interest in the contest was heightened by the fact that there were six tickets in the field and also that the man elected this time will be St. Louis' executive during the great exposition to be held in 1903. St. Louis is preparing to celebrate on a grand scale the centennial of the Louisiana purchase, and the mayor in 1903 will have the honor of representing the largest city in the territory comprised in that important acquisition of land.

The successful candidate for the office, Rolla Wells, is a St. Louisan by birth and breeding. He is about 45 years old and a son of the man who established the first omnibus line and the first street car line in the city. Until recently Mr. Wells had large street railroad holdings in the city, but he has sold these out and now devotes himself to other interests, principally the steel business. Mr. Wells is a graduate of Washington university and was educated in business methods by his father. At one time young Wells drove a street car in the city of which he has now become mayor.

Mr. Wells is greatly interested in fine horses and owns a string of fast ones which he races for pleasure. He has been president of the St. Louis Fair association and of the St. Louis Jockey

Mr. Wells is a Democrat in politics and has long been influential in the local councils of his party, although he has never held any office. He was one of the organizers of the gold Democratic party in 1896. He is one of the most prominent business men of St. Louis and is a strenuous advocate of the participation of business men in

REORGANIZING THE ARMY.

New Assistant Secretary Busiest Man In War Department.

Most important measures looking to the reorganization of the war department and the United States army are now under way and will take effect about June 30, the end of the current fiscal year. All the officials and clerks of the department are busily engaged in the work, from the secretary down. Probably the busiest man of all, however, is the new assistant secretary of war, Colonel William Cary Sanger.

Colonel Sanger has long been well and favorably known as an artillery expert, and the branch of the reorganization in which he is particularly in terested is that relating to the ordnance of the army. For some time past Colonel Sanger has been engaged in the preparation of plans for improving the methods of instructing artillery troops, the principal feature of which is a new system of target practice. It is proposed to have target practice at stated periods each year, and a complete record will be kept of all enlisted men and

Colonel Sanger is a man of much experience in military affairs, for he has been connected with the New York state militia for more than 15 years. The College ball club played its first regular game Friday with the Brodhead team for their autagonists. The home nine was exclusively an amateur nine. every player being a member of the college classes, while in the Brodhead outfit were rank outsiders, the pitcher hailing from Dixon college, where he ofdelated in the box last season, and the first baseman and catcher from other than the regular nine. Both clubs were guilty of some glaring jerrors, but the College boys got the only double play, and did the best batting. After the second inning the home team did very good fielding and won the game on its merits, by a score of 12 to 10. Batteries-Brodhead: Fernam and Alexander; College: Blies, Platts and place; umpire. Crumb.

EASTMAN ON WITHESS STAND

Claims Shooting of Grogan Was an Accident.

NOT CLEAR AS TO FACTS.

Tells a Confused Story of the Tragedy Which Ended in His Brother-in-Law's Death-Says He Was Frightened and Mentions a Struggle.

Boston, Mass., May 8.—Prof. Charles R. Eastman took the stand today in the course of his own murder trial at East Cambridge, and told an interesting story of the killing of his brotherin-law, Richard H. Grogan, Jr., on July 4 of last year.

Story of the Shooting. Eastman's story of the shooting, told in answer to the questions of his counsel, was in part as follows:

"There was one cartridge in the old rim-fire revolver. To remove it I had to take out the cylinder. I tried to turn it, but without success. It was jammed or stuck. I then raised the hammer, and while it was in that position it went off. Just before that Grogan had been saying the way to get a bull's eye is to bring the revolver down on the target. I was startled, and I saw him in front of me not more than four feet and facing me. He had his revolver in his hand, and then his hand went into the air, and he uttered an exclamation and discharged his gun. I sprang forward, and from this point onward I cannot give anything consecutively, as I was frightened. He fell backward, and the revolver went off a second time. In an agony of fright I rushed forward and grabbed the pistol out of his hand. He drew his arm inward, and he whirled me once or twice towards the bank, and the revolver was thrown in that direction. His knees struck me, and, as I remember, he said: 'You've shot me; you've shot me!' A struggle followed and all was confusion. I got away, and we came together again, and I tried to kick a gun out of the way, and there was more struggling, which ended by his breaking away. I don't remember about passing through the north hen yard, but all I remember is what took place in the south hen yard. I next saw Grogan raise the latch and pass out.

Says Grogan Accused Him.

"I know I got the 44-caliber, and after he was several feet ahead of me I ran after him as fast as I could. saw him go to the foot of the bank and stumble and fall into Captain Dallinger's arms. Mr. Grogan partially recovered consciousness. He said: 'Charlie Eastman shot me; there he is now." He said again: 'Charlie Eastman shot me, honest to God.' I made some reply; I do not know what I said, but I do know that I was unable to form an articulate speech. I could not get my breath. In whatever form of words I replied I do not know. I went after a basin of water. He did not speak again after I returned. He had fainted for a second time, and he never regained consciousness. I felt dizzy and faint. At the time my attention was attracted to my own wound. Dr. Crocker was there, and he took me over to my own home, where he dressed my wound."

The Blood HEALTHY OR DISEASED

When there is a natural and healthy circulation of the blood, the entire quantity, estimated at one-eighth the weight of the body, passes through the heart every five minutes. This rapid flow of the blood through the system prevents the entrance of disease germs and impurities of every description. It filters out all that is not necessary or good for the growth and development of the body and nourishing and strengthening the muscles, tissues, nerves and bones. But, unfortunately, impolluted circulation, and in consequence are exposed to innumerable diseases, through the blood, and Cancer, Scrotula, Rheumatism, Catarrh, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, Tetter—in fact the majority of human ailments—are caused by poisons or humors that are engendered and fostered in a sluggish. The Blood is the Source and impoverished blood. Old sores, chronic ulcers and rheumatic pains are compared and impoverished blood. Sallow complexions and rough, oily skins any external treatment can cure. Diseases that originate in the blood, whether they manifest themselves as ulcers, tumors, itching eruptions, muscular or bone pains, require a tonic and blood purifier such as S. It goes down to the very foundation of the disease and eliminates from the system every-thing of a poisonous character or that obstructs and clogs the circulation. It builds up and imparts new strength and vitality to the old innutritious blood, and when the arteries and veins are once grow stronger, and sores and eruptions of every kind disappear.

SAVES LIFE

Willard, Ill., August 1, 1900.

I was in bad health this spring and could not sit up in bed for four weeks. When I was confined may child died. When I began to sit up I felt so weak and had such terrible pains in my back and hips. I had kidney trouble and falling of the womb. I also had hystorical spells. I was in a bad condition when I received your "Ladies' Birthday Almanne" and rend the advertisement of Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught. Since April 20th, I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui and three packages of Thedford's Black-Draught. I feel like a new person now. I can do all my work and can walk out to see any of my neighbors. I believe I would have been in the grave had it not been for Wine of Cardui. IT SAVED MY LEFE.

Mrs. ALICE DAVIS.

It is well that women are more patient than men. Few men could bear the bitter pangs, the agony and distress that women endure. Thousands of women have come to look upon suffering as a duty of their sex. But there are many lastances of this heroic fortitude which now renders unnecessary. Women need no longer suffer for modesty's sake. Wine of Cardui brings relief to modest women in the privacy of their homes. Many of the best homes in this city are never without this great medicine. It cures whites and falling of the womb and completely eradicates these dragging periodical pains. Mrs. Davis' cure shows you conclusively what you may expect if you follow her example and take Wine of Cardui. Thedford's Black-Draught aids Wine of Cardui by regulating the stomach and howels. When you ask your druggist for these medicines, be stomach and bowels. When you ask your druggist for these medicines, be sure you get them. It was Wine of Cardul and Thedford's Black Draught that saved Mrs. Davis' life. Never take a substitute.

Oulook for Corn is Fair. Washington, D. C., May 8-The temperature conditions of the week ending May 6 in nearly all districts east of the Rocky mountains have been highly favorable, but it has been too dry over the greater part of the gulf and South Atlantic states as well as in portions of the lake Middle Atlantic states and the northern portion of the Upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys have experienced an exceptionally favorable week.

Corn planting has progressed rapidly in the central valleys, has begun in the extreme northern districts, and is about finished as far north as the Carolinas, Tennessee, and Arkansas. In the southern states poor stands are extensively reported, and the crop is generally in need of rain, somewhat improved as although compared with its condition at the close of the previous week.

On the Pacific coast, especially in California, the weather conditions have been highly favorable to winter wheat. The bulk of the spring wheat crop has been sown, and the early sown is in promising condition. In Minesota, however, stooling has been very slow.

The oat crop is generally suffering for rain in the southern states, and damage from insects continues in Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas and portions of Illineis.

Rains are very generally needed throughout the cotton belt to germinate the larger part of the cotton replanted since the cold of April 18. some of which, however, is coming up to good stands, especially in the eastern districts.

In Wisconsin-Showers in the nor thern section, but elsewhere practically no rain: soil very dry and rain badly needed; seeding practically completed, and early sowings coming up; preparations for corn under and pastures making way; grass slow growth; winter wheat and rye healthy and of good color; prospect for apples, fair; small fruits, good.
